TOUSLEY BRAIN STEPHENS PLLC has extensive experience in class action litigation and has both prosecuted and defended numerous multi-million dollar class actions, including the following cases in the areas of securities, consumer protection, product liability, and employment:

Securities

- As sole class counsel in Johnson v. Amgen Boulder, Inc., we represented a national class that invested approximately $50 million with the world's largest biotechnology company to fund the development of a genetically engineered molecule. That case settled for payments totaling $82 million.
- As sole class counsel in Trimble et al. v. Holmes Harbor Sewer District et al., Superior Court, Island County, Washington, we represented a national class of bondholders. We achieved a 100% recovery for investors who had purchased unlawfully issued bonds through several broker dealers.
- As sole class counsel in Wolf et al. v. Asiamerica et al., Superior Court, King County, Washington, we represented a national class in a securities fraud action against an international leveraged buy-out corporation. The case settled for approximately 120% of the class's investment, plus attorneys' fees and costs.
- As liaison counsel in In re Washington Mutual Mortgage-Backed Securities Litigation, U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington, we represented a class of purchasers of mortgage-backed certificates issued and underwritten by Washington Mutual and related entities. The named Plaintiffs alleged that the defendants violated federal securities laws by misrepresenting the underwriting procedures used to originate the mortgage loan collateral. The case settled for $26 million.

Consumer

- Appointed sole class counsel in Ikuseghan v. Multicare Health System, U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington to represent a nationwide class asserting Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA) claims. In approving the settlement and fee award, the court noted that “class counsel obtained an extraordinarily good result for the class following an arm’s-length negotiation. Under the approved settlement, class members will receive as much as they would have received had they successfully litigated their claims under the TCPA. This recovery is significantly superior to other TCPA class action settlements that have been approved in this Circuit.” With individual class member recoveries ranging from $2,500 to over $19,000 per approved claim, the settlement is believed to be the largest individual class member recovery in any TCPA case.
- As co-lead counsel in a consumer fraud class action, Odom v. Microsoft, et al., Superior Court, King County, Washington, we successfully settled this action in 2010 after six years of hard-fought litigation. We alleged that Microsoft Corporation and Best Buy Stores, Inc. established MSN Internet accounts and trial subscriptions in the names of class members without their knowledge or approval and charged their credit or debit cards for this unauthorized, unused service. The case settled with each class member receiving a refund of up to $75 for the MSN charges they paid.

- As co-lead counsel in Nelson v. Appleway Chevrolet, Inc., 160 Wn.2d 173 (2007), we successfully represented purchasers of vehicles, parts, and services against certain automobile dealers in Washington who were illegally charging purchasers Business and Occupation tax. The class members received full refunds of all illegally collected taxes in addition to attorneys' fees and costs.
- As co-lead counsel in Cole v. Wells Fargo Bank N.A., U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington, we successfully settled this case on behalf of a national class of consumers charged excessive fees on their accounts. Class members received full refunds of all excessive fees, together with interest, attorneys' fees and costs. Judge Lasnik, W.D. WA, noted this settlement was an example of the kind of justice class actions could achieve.
- As co-lead counsel in Michael Spafford, Jr. v. Echostar Communications, Corporation, U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington, we successfully obtained an injunction on behalf of Washington consumers prohibiting defendant from using automatic dialing and announcing devices to sell satellite television subscriptions and equipment in violation of Washington law.

Data Breach

- Appointed sole interim lead counsel in In re Premera Blue Cross Custody Data Security Breach Litigation, multi-district litigation pending in the U.S. District Court for the District of Oregon. The lawsuit alleges that Premera allowed a massive breach of its data systems, permitting hackers access to the personal, medical, and financial information of more than 11 million Premera subscribers and employees. A $32 million cash and $42 million injunctive relief settlement is pending approval.

- Co-lead counsel in Armon v. Washington State Univ., No. 17-2-23244-1 SEA. This data breach case involved a stolen hard drive containing personal information of over one million individuals. Preliminary approval was granted of $5.26 million, plus injunctive relief.
- Served on the plaintiffs' steering committee in multi-district litigation to prosecute claims of financial institutions in the In re The Home Depot, Inc. Customer Data Security Breach Litigation, No. 14-md-02583 (N.D. Georgia) related to its 2014 data breach. The financial institutions sought to recover losses they incurred in reissuing cancelled credit cards and paying fraud claims. The financial institutions alleged that Home Depot intentionally neglected its data security to maximize profits. Hon. Thomas W. Thrash, Jr., United States District Court Judge for the Northern District of Georgia, granted final approval to a $43.5 million settlement to cover financial institution losses, attorneys' fees and costs. The judgment is on appeal.

Product Liability

- As co-lead counsel in the In re Louisiana-Pacific Inner Seal Siding class action, U.S. District Court, District of Oregon, we initially settled one of the largest product liability class action settlements in the United States for $275 million. In November 1998, this settlement was augmented by additional commitments for a total of more than $500 million, over $240 million of which was paid to Washington residents.

- As co-lead counsel in the Richison v. American Cemwood Corp., Superior Court, San Joaquin County, California, we settled this litigation, related to defective shingles, creating a guaranteed $105-million settlement fund for a national class in the first phase of litigation. The second phase, against Cemwood's insurers, created an additional $83-million settlement fund in 2003.
- As co-lead counsel in the Behr Wood Sealants settlement, Superior Court, San Joaquin County, California, we created a national settlement fund in 2003 of up to $107.5 million, plus $25 million in attorneys' fees.
- As co-lead counsel in a national product liability class action against Weyerhaeuser Company in San Francisco Superior Court, Williams et al. v. Weyerhaeuser Company, we settled the claims against Weyerhaeuser for approximately $85 million.
- As co-lead counsel for the plaintiff class in Clemans v. New Werner Co, et al., U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington, we successfully obtained free replacement ladders for a national class of approximately 300,000 consumers. The class alleged that Werner pull-down attic ladders were unreasonably dangerous because of defective hinges. The settlement was valued at $48 million dollars.
- Co-counsel for national class of homeowners with allegedly defective roofing shingles in In re IKO Roofing Shingle Products Liability Litigation, 757 F.3d 599 (USCA 7th Cir. 2014). The settled for extended warranties, replacement shingles or cash value of replacement shingles all with an estimated value of $30 million.

- As co-counsel for a health benefits trust in Neurontin Marketing Sales Practices and Products Liability Litigation, we represented a national class alleging that in an effort to boost profits, Pfizer, Inc. and Warner-Lambert Co. sold the drug Neurontin for uses for which it was neither approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration nor medically effective. Pfizer Inc. agreed to pay $325 million to resolve the class's claim that Pfizer defrauded insurers and other healthcare benefit providers by its off label marketing of Neurontin.
- As co-lead counsel in Delay v. Hurd Millwork Co., Superior Court, Spokane County, Washington, we represented a Western States class of individuals that purchased windows allegedly filled with inert gas. The case settled for $5.3 million.
- As sole class counsel in Barrett v. PABCO, Superior Court, King County, Washington, a national roofing shingles product liability case, we settled the case on an unlimited claims-made basis in 2006. That settlement more than doubled the value of compensation available to homeowners under a Washington State Attorney General Consent Decree, and opened claims to every qualified homeowner in the nation, including those who were not original purchasers of the roofing product.
- As co-lead counsel in Grays Harbor Christian School v. Carrier Corporation, U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington, we successfully represented national consumers to whom Carrier allegedly sold defective high efficiency furnaces. The case settled on a national and international basis when Carrier agreed to compensate consumers for past failures and fix the alleged defect for free in the future. Three million consumers were covered under the settlement, which was valued at more than $300 million.

- As co-lead counsel in Zwicker v. General Motors, Inc., U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington, we represented more than four million consumers who purchased vehicles with defective speedometers. The court granted final settlement approval, which entitles most class members to have their speedometers fixed for free.
- As co-lead counsel in Splater et al. v. Thermal Ease Hydronic Systems, Inc. et al., Superior Court, King County, Washington, we represented a class of Washington consumers with defective tubing in their homes and obtained a seven-figure settlement for our clients.
- As co-lead class counsel in Stanley and Betty Pelletz v. Weyerhaeuser Company et al., U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington, we represented a class of consumers who alleged that their ChoiceDek decking was defective because it developed black and gray mold spots throughout the decking and railing. The settlement allows class members a free deck cleaning along with application of a mold inhibitor and deck replacement or a full refund if the cleaning does not work.
- As co-lead counsel in Ross, et al. v. Trex Company, Inc., U.S. District Court, Northern District of California, we represented a national class of building owners with Trex decking products that delaminated, flaked and crumbled.

Allegations related to that defect settled with class members receiving replacement product or cash.

- As co-lead class counsel in Mahan v. Trex Company, Inc., U.S. District Court, Northern District of California, we represented a national class of building owners with Trex decking products that grew mold and mildew internally. The settlement provided three tiers of cash and product relief to affected homeowners.
- As co-lead counsel in Carideo v. Dell, U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington, we represented a class of Dell computer owners whose laptop computers overheated. The case settled with class members receiving partial reimbursement for the cost of their laptop.
- Appointed co-lead counsel in the MDL proceedings against Monsanto Company related to the release of Round-up resistant wheat. We successfully obtained a settlement for soft white wheat farmers in the Pacific Northwest related to the May 2013 discovery of genetically-modified wheat on an Eastern Oregon farm, which resulted in market disruptions to the exports of soft white wheat. Monsanto agreed to pay $2.5 million into a settlement fund for farmers and wheat growers in Washington, Oregon, and Idaho.

Employment

- As co-lead counsel in Barnett et al. v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., Superior Court, King County, Washington, we represented a class of more than 88,000 current and former employees who worked in Wal-Mart's Washington stores. The case settled after almost eight years of litigation for up to $35 million.

- As co-lead counsel in Kirkpatrick v. Ironwood Communications, Inc., U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington, we represented hourly employees in Washington and Oregon, who alleged the company failed to pay them for all hours worked, failed to provide them rest and meal breaks, and made unlawful deductions to their paychecks. The case settled for confidential sums.
- As co-lead counsel in Godfrey v. Chelan County Public Utility District, U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Washington, we represented a class of utility employees who alleged that they performed work for the Utility District without being paid for their work. The case settled with the Utility District compensating the employees and paying attorneys' fees and costs.
- As co-lead counsel in McGinnity v. AutoNation, Inc., a private, class arbitration, we obtained a $2.34 million arbitration award on behalf of a class of AutoNation car dealership workers who were unlawfully denied their earned paid vacation benefits.
- As class Counsel in Morden v. T-Mobile USA, Inc., U.S. District Court, Western District of Washington, we obtained certification of a nationwide collective action of current and former employees of a major wireless telecommunication carrier, which had been allegedly misclassified as exempt from wage and hour laws. The parties reached a $2 million settlement of the case.
